

BLATTY
CELLARS

2015 Tannat, California

Each vintage while we are focusing primarily on our vineyards in Los Angeles, we venture up to the Adelaida District of Paso Robles, to harvest a half ton of Tannat from the Bella Collina Vineyard. The unique varietal is used in our Agenda Red Blend, which is primarily Syrah. It is this Tannat however that adds that extra special something. This tiny Blatty Cellars bottling showcases this beautiful wine and lets it take center stage.

Vintage Notes

California had yet another drought year in 2016, resulting in grape yields remaining low, but high-quality. The Adelaida District, in the west side of Paso Robles, enjoys extreme diurnal shifts (big drops in nighttime temperatures) that produce wine with thick skins and great tannic structure.

Winegrowing & Production Notes

The 2015 Blatty Cellars Tannat is a blend of 90% Tannat from the Bella Collina vineyard in the Adelaida District, on the west side of Paso Robles, and 10% Syrah from Leona Valley in Los Angeles County. This beautifully softened blend spent 33 months in 25% new French oak barrels, allowing its flavors and tannins to mellow and evolve.

Tasting Notes

Red currents and raspberries are first in line on the nose, supported diligently by roasted meats and game, with hints of dried tobacco leaf and peppercorns. Fresh red berries with mouthwatering acidity, and polished tannins greet the palate, and gracefully transition to the silky finish. Hand-bottled and hand-dipped in wax, this wine showcases the Bella Collina Tannat that is used in our Agenda Red Blend.

Technical Notes

Vintage:	2015
Varietal(s):	90% Tannat, 10% Syrah
Appellation:	California
Vineyard Designation:	Bella Collina & Leona Valley Vineyards
Harvest Date(s):	October 5 th , 2015 / September 14 th , 2015
Titrateable Acidity:	.755
pH:	3.54
Aging:	33 months in French oak, 25% new
Fermentation:	open top bins
Bottling Date:	June 23 rd , 2018
Alcohol:	14.6%
Production:	11 cases
Retail:	$58.00 / bottle – 750ml